

International Salvage Union statistics for 2016 show an increase in the provision of vital services but a dramatic fall in revenues

By International Salvage Union, 27th April 2017

International Salvage Union statistics for 2016 show an increase in the provision of vital services but a dramatic fall in revenues. Gross revenues for ISU members in 2016 from all activities fell to US$ 380 million. It compares with US$ 717 million in 2015, a drop of 47%. The statistics are for income received in the given year but which may relate to, in some cases, operations from a preceding year. The complete news release and statistics are available here on the ISU website:

<http://www.marine-salvage.com/media-information/our-latest-news/international-salvage-union-statistics-for-2016-show-an-increase-in-the-provision-of-vital-services-but-a-dramatic-fall-in-revenues/>