

The International Union of Marine Insurance (IUMI) Appoints Navigate PR

15th January 2015

It is with great pleasure we announce that Navigate PR has been appointed as PR and communications advisors to the International Union of Marine Insurance (IUMI).

Navigate PR is a leading communications agency based in London which specialises in the shipping sector. The company was founded in 2004 in order to assist shipping and maritime service companies become more visible through a range of strategic and creative activities. The agency has been appointed by IUMI to help enhance the association's profile and to streamline communications with the media.

Both organisations are looking forward to this exciting new partnership.
